

Nutrition DeJunked

Insurance Script

This questionnaire will guide you in navigating the insurance process and determine if your insurance plan covers our time together. We do not check client benefits, so it is your responsibility to know what your plan covers and your portion of the cost. Please complete each question before your first appointment.

Nutrition DeJunked currently accepts Blue Cross of Idaho, Regence Blue Shield, Medicare, UnitedHealthcare, Cigna, PacificSource, and St. Luke's Health Partners (including Mountain Health Co-Op, Humana, and SelectHealth). You will be a private pay client if you are contracted with another insurance company. We are happy to provide you with a superbill to submit to your insurance company for potential reimbursement for our sessions. The superbill does not guarantee reimbursement.

We are required to use a preventative nutrition counseling billing code (Z71.3) unless another diagnosis code is provided. Coverage may change based on the billing code used. For example, some plans may not cover preventative nutrition counseling but will cover sessions for an eating disorder, diabetes, or PCOS. If you'd like us to use another diagnosis code, we need the diagnosis from a therapist, psychiatrist, or medical provider. We are happy to obtain those records for you with your permission.

If your plan does not cover dietitian visits and you have an eating disorder, your insurance is required to cover nutrition counseling under the mental health parity law if you have mental health coverage. We can obtain the diagnosis if you permit us to collaborate with your medical provider or therapist. In that case, we will do our best to advocate for more sessions with your insurance provider. We will reimburse you if insurance covers sessions with the eating disorder diagnosis code.

There are times when insurance misquotes benefits, where they may process the claim differently than they initially said they would. In case of a misquote, you are still responsible for any copay/coinsurance/deductible amount that insurance reports. If insurance declines to cover your visit(s) for any reason, you are responsible for the full fee for the service(s) rendered.

You will get an Explanation of Benefits (EOB) from your insurance company. EOBs will either be mailed or uploaded to your healthcare portal. You are responsible for understanding your benefits and checking and keeping track of your EOBs from your insurance company, and we recommend you do this to avoid any financial surprises. You may or may not receive the EOB before Nutrition DeJunked receives it and runs the charges. Our biller will contact you only if there is a problem running your card on file or if we are notified through your EOB that you have exhausted your nutrition benefits through your healthcare plan. You will receive a receipt indicating if the charge is a copay, deductible, or coinsurance with the date of service the charges are for.

If you have any questions or concerns about billing, please contact our billing department at billing@nutritiondejunked.com.
